

Clarke-Oconee Genealogical Society

COGS 2010 Genealogy and History EXPO

“Connecting Your Present to Your Past”

Saturday, April 17, 2010

10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Oconee County Library

1080 Experiment Station Road

Watkinsville, Georgia

Free Admission

Celebrate genealogy, the fastest growing personal pastime in the nation.

Browse displays with books and other materials for sale. Visit various society booths, including those dedicated to lineage, hereditary, historical, and genealogical topics. See demonstrations of genealogy software and much more!

For more information, call the Heritage Room at the Athens-Clarke County Library at 706-613-3650, ext. 350.

PROGRAMS & SPEAKERS

10:30 – 11:30am - Mary Anne Abbe –
Non-Population Census Schedules and Why You Need to Use Them

Noon – 1:00 pm – William J. Morton will talk about his book The Story of Georgia's Boundaries: A Meeting of History and Geography

1:30 – 2:30 pm - Kristy Dixon from the Digital Library of Georgia - Sanborn Fire Insurance Maps: Why You Need Them

3:00 – 4:00 pm – Lisa J. Delgado –
Online Social Networking for Genealogists: How to Have Fun and Learn from Blogs, Wikis, and More

From 10:00 am – Noon - Dr. Robert Nix, Professor Emeritus, Lamar Dodd School of Art, University of Georgia and noted expert on historical photographic techniques, will informally meet with people to answer questions about their old photographs, daguerreotypes, tintypes, etc.